- What, if anything, have you valued about church over the past year? What does being part of church mean for you?
- Lesslie Newbiggin said that the only effective means for communicating the gospel is a congregation who believe it and live by it. What might that look like when it's working well?
- If the Kingdom of God is about change and renewal of the world, what's the change that you most want to see right now on your frontline/in our community/in our world?
- Process: what's a small first step you/we could take towards bringing that change? Encourage each other.
- Pray for our church and our mission in the weeks and months to come, that we will be empowered by the Holy Spirit.
